

Exams Information AS and A Level Summer 2024 Series

AS and A Level exams will occur in the summer 2024 exam series, this series will run from April until June. If you wish to participate in this exam series, it is very important that you allow enough time to look for a suitable exam centre. Registration for the summer 2024 series opens in early October 2023, and closes in late February 2024, however, depending on your location some centres can reach capacity by January 2024.

For your exams, you will be registered as a private candidate with a local exam centre. Below are the exam codes, titles, and subject specifications for all of the King's InterHigh AS and A Level subjects that have exams:

Due to the coursework component in this subject, King's InterHigh will need to enter you for the exams, as we will be the ones to mark and moderate your coursework. Please confirm with the exam centre you register with that King's InterHigh will enter you for the exams, mark and moderate the coursework, and transfer the exam papers to their centre. If you register with Tutors and Exams, they will make the entry and moderate the coursework themselves.

AS Level Exams

For the majority of subjects, AS Level exams contribute up to 50% of the final qualifications grade, this is because the AS Level and A Level results are combined to form the final grade. Students have the opportunity to take the AS Level exams in the Summer 2024 series, November 2024 series, or the Summer 2025 series (alongside their A Level exams). When students take the exams is a personal preference, we will send reminders before each exam series opens.

UK qualifications including Classical Civilisation, Media Studies, Politics, and UK A Level Sciences do not have AS Level exams that contribute to the overall grade, for this reason we recommend students do not sit the AS Levels for these subjects.

Option Codes

Option codes are two letters at the end of the Cambridge International exam codes, that inform the exam centres what exams need to be taken and if any grades need to be carried forward from previous exam series. The codes for the summer 2024 series will be published in October, once they are published King's InterHigh will create an option codes calculator.
